The Program

"The purpose of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) is to provide an educational program for boys and young adults to build character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop personal fitness."

Through the following methods the three aims of Scouting listed above are met.

Ideals - The ideals are set forth in the Scout Oath, Law, Motto and Slogan.

Patrols - Utilizes the benefits of interactive teamwork and leadership development brought about by the patrol method.

Outdoor Programs - Enhance cooperation and teamwork while learning ecology, practicing conservation and, most importantly, having fun.

Advancement - Rewards and acknowledges the significant accomplishments along the trail from Tenderfoot to Eagle Scout.

Leadership Development - Throughout the trail, the Scout is encouraged and offered the opportunity to learn and practice leadership skills.

Personal Growth - The above combined with community service, "A Good Turn" and the religious program all add up to personal growth for the Scout.

Last but not least is the Uniform - This apparel is definitely multi-functional. It is a positively recognizable symbol in the community. It is a tie to other Scouts. It is durable to work in. It can be used to demonstrate pride of accomplishment. It is also an equalizer.

Delivering the Promise to our Youth?

By the criteria developed by the BSA for successful troops the answer to these questions is a resounding YES.

Criteria

1. 766 has earned the Quality Unit Award.
2. 766 Scoutmaster has completed Basic Training.
3. 766 has a high ratio of adults to youth.
4. 766 leaders regularly attend round tables.
5. 766 troop meetings are planned at patrol leaders councils.
6. 766 uses BSA materials in planning the troop program.
7. 766 has new Scout patrols.
8. 766 adds at least 10 Scouts each year.
9. 766 camps at least 25 days and nights per year.
10. 766 attends a Council long term camp.
11. 766 leaders are proficient in outdoor skills.
12. 766 easily exceeds the minimum of 21 Scouts.
13. 766 has, through its association with Venture 2000, a program for older Scouts.

What a Troop 766 Parent Can Expect

Troop 766 strongly believes there is no better way of enjoying your child's youth than spending quality time together through participating in the Scouting experience.

However, what ever your comfort level is, from little participation to leadership positions, Troop 766 has a place for you and you are always welcome.

Should you choose to be an active parent Troop 766 will ensure you are shown the ropes either through informal guidance at the troop level or more formal training put on at the Council Level.

Chartered Organization

Troop 766 is fortunate to have as its chartering organization The Izaak Walton League of America (IWLA), Linn County Chapter.

The IWLA is first and foremost an organization of active and dedicated volunteer conservationists who help protect and restore the country's natural resources at the local, state and national levels.

The IWLA has many commonalities with the Boy Scouts of America and are an excellent resource for the troops outdoor program with not only a fine location but also many talented individuals to provide instruction and guidance for the troop.

Leadership

The leadership of Troop 766, under the direction of Scoutmaster Matt Herlocker, is dedicated to assuring a successful "YOUTH LED" troop.

Troop 766 is a very successful troop. The reasons for the success are:

1. 766 is a "Youth Led" unit (which grows responsibility & experience).
2. 766 has an extensive outdoor program (fun & educational).
3. 766 participates in 2 or 3 high adventures every year.
4. 766 has adult involvement (advice & guidance).

Troop 766 presently has about 68 registered adults, many being BSA trained.
